Team building

Coaching and Competition

Your staff, clients and guests can be placed in teams and coached by the World Champion and arguably the world's most qualified coach.

Guests will receive coaching tips that they can refer to every time they pick up a cue for the rest of their lives, which will bring back memories of their unique experience you have provided for them

Robby can assist players by walking around as players compete or in a more formal structured style as stated below. In a group, guests listen to Robby and see him exhibit a coaching tip. After a coaching tip, groups will attempt various training drills, with each group member having alternate shots which can add to their group scores.

Foldvari will then perform another training drill at pool which the team members will try and replicate. Specifically designed Score Sheets are provided. Team winners of the event can be awarded prizes, while participants will receive World Association Coaching Certificates.

Event management

Multi player games

Foldvari can facilitate the playing of a billiard game with many competitors at the same time.

These events can be formatted into team events. There is a vast amount of luck in these specifically designed events so it is a great leveller amongst competitors.

We are sure no matter what the gender or age of your guests they will enjoy this unique event.
